Other Academic and Professional Contributions:

- Conceptualised, designed, and jointly coordinated two University-approved Value-Added Certificate Courses on Translation Skills Development: Hindi to Bengali Translation and Bengali to Hindi Translation, in collaboration with Dr. Anindya Gangopadhyay.
- I have developed and disseminated ICT-mediated educational content in the areas of language, literature, and culture through my podcast initiative, “Redphone Podcast with Rishi,” hosted on YouTube and other digital platforms.
- I have actively mentored students in co-curricular and extracurricular activities, particularly by organizing and supervising departmental educational tours and project-based learning activities related to courses such as Literary Journalism, Folklore Studies, and Film Studies.
- I have created and curated literary audio-visual learning resources for students as well as for the wider community, with the objective of promoting accessible and engaging literary and cultural education.
- I have consistently contributed to enhancing the visibility and outreach of departmental and university activities by promoting academic initiatives through both print and digital media platforms.
- Published columns in leading Hindi dailies and gave interviews to prominent national print media outlets, including Dainik Jagran, Sanmarg, and Salam Duniya, on issues relating to language, literature, culture, and contemporary society.
- Conceptualised and played a key role in establishing Pahal IAS Academy, Kolkata, serving as its Chief Mentor and providing voluntary academic and institutional guidance without remuneration.
- Conducted several workshops and training programmes for school and college teachers on the pedagogy of teaching and assessment of Hindi language and literature, with a special focus on non-Hindi-speaking regions of India.
- Designed and facilitated item-writing workshops and training module development programmes, leading to the creation of more than 3,000 valid and standardised assessment items for various language proficiency and achievement tests.
- Served as an Editorial Board Member for five published volumes on language testing, assessment, and pedagogy while associated with the Central Hindi Institute (CHI), Agra, and the Central Institute of Indian Languages (CIIL), Mysuru, under the Ministry of Education, Government of India.
- Taught Hindi as a Foreign Language (HFL) to international students as a Lecturer at the Kendriya Hindi Sansthan, Delhi Centre, Ministry of Education, Government of India.
- Demonstrated expertise in multilingual education, language assessment, and language policy, with significant contributions to the development of multilingual assessment frameworks, technology-enabled proficiency tests, and digital learning resources. Designed and developed assessment materials and training modules for language education and teacher professional development.
