

Bios 0332: Insects and Human life

1. General organization and diversity of insects.
2. Insects as source of human commodities - Bionomics and economic importance of Silk moth, Honey bee and Lac insects.
3. Insects as pests - Bionomics and control of insect pests of jute, sugarcane, common vegetables and cotton.
4. Insects as vectors - Bionomics and medical importance of mosquito, house fly, body louse, sand fly and tsetse fly.
5. Insects as pollinators - structural specialization in insects as pollinating agents.