

3rd Sem: Tagore in Translation:

This course intends to engage with selected texts of Tagore, and read them in English translation. The focus will be variously on 'reading' the text; Tagore as a translator; comparative analyses of translations across time and space; the cultural politics of translations/ Tagore translations; the discipline of translation studies. Students who opt for this course should ideally have a working knowledge of Bengali, although that is not an imperative.