

Department of Political Science

Third Semester

Gen-Ed

POLS 331: India and the World

The course is designed to make students familiar with the emergence of a new India wishing to play a major role in global politics and economy:

1. India after the Cold War: an Emerging Power
2. India and its neighbours
3. India and the U.S.A. since 1991
4. India and China since 1991
5. India and the U.N.O. since 1991

References:

V. P. Dutt, India's Foreign Policy in a Changing World.

Harsh V. Pant (ed.), Indian Foreign Policy in a Unipolar World.

Stephen P. Cohen, India: Emerging Power

Bimal Jalan, The Future of India: Politics, Economics and Governance

Gurcharan Das, The Elephant Paradigm: India Wrestles with Change

Aneek Chatterjee (ed.), World Politics

D. J. Whittaker, United Nations in the Contemporary World.