

Seminar Notice

Debopam Bhattacharya of Cambridge University will give a talk on Endogeneity in linear and limited dependent variable models on 11th August 2017 from 3 to 5 pm in Economics Seminar Room located at Economics Department, Presidency University.

All interested faculty and students are welcome.

A brief bio of Debopam Bhattacharya

Debopam Bhattacharya is a graduate of Indian Statistical Institute, Kolkata and completed his Masters degree in Economics from University of Delhi and from London School of Economics. He did his Ph.D. from Princeton University. The Nobel laureate Angus Deaton was there in his Thesis Committee. At present he is a Faculty, and Title C fellow in Trinity College, University of Cambridge. His teaching and research interests are Empirical Microeconomics and Micro-econometrics. He has widely published in several prestigious journals including Econometrica, Journal of Econometrics, Quantitative Economics, Journal of the American Statistical Association.